SUSPECT ARRESTED DIES IN HOSPITAL OF GUN SHOT WOUND

Two Others Arrested After
Fatal Shooting—Autoists
Witness Gun Play

Kent, O., March 23.—Clayton Apple, 43, merchant policeman, was almost instantly killed and Bassile Nicossa, 26, alleged gunman, died today in an Akron hospital, as the result of a gun battle here this morning, in which Apple engaged three men believed to have been bent upon the murder of another private officer for revenge, robbery or arson.

It was believed that Apple met his death when he halted the three men for questioning. Nicossa and Frank Mollica, 25, were later arrested in Akron. Nicossa, a wound in his abdomen, was taken to the Akron city hospital where he died. A third suspect was reported under arrest at Girard and will be brought here for questioning.

Mollica, questioned by Akron police, admitted having driven from Kent to Akron early this morning, but claimed he picked up Nicossa on the road and knew nothing of him or the gun battle.

Apple and his fellow officer, Medio, resemble each other and both wore uniforms without badges. Police believe the gangsters wanted to kill Medio and mistook Apple for their desired victim when Apple halted them in the street.

Harry Wilson and Alvin McDermott of Kent, witnessed the shootings. They were in a car and saw Apple talking with the three other men. The autoists, thinking a holdup was in progress, drove to the business section for an officer, and finding none, returned just in time to see the shooting begin. Apple was dead when the autoists reached him and his slayers had fled.

FIRE DESTROYS FARM HOME OF C. R. REED

Sparks from a defective flue caused the fire that completely destroyed the residence of C. R. Reed, seven miles north of Jamestown, on the Springfield Pike, Saturday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were in Springfield when the fire occurred, and the flames were discovered in the attic by the Reed children. The house was a large, two-story brick structure with all modern improvements, and stood on a farm of 400 acres.

Neighbors who fought the fire succeeded in saving the kitchen of the house from destruction. The house, however, was also saved. Loss is partly covered by insurance.

NITRO-GLYCERIN EXPLODES IN PLANT

Newark, O., March 23.—Five hundred and forty quarts of nitro-glycerin let go with terrific force Sunday afternoon at the Marietta Magazine and Torpedo Company, located near Rock Haven park, twelve miles east of here. So far it is impossible to tell whether anyone was killed, as it is not known whether anyone was in the vicinity at the time.

L. W. King, manager of the plant said that if there was anyone within a thousand yards of the plant, he was blown to atoms.

King states the loss will be conservatively $25,000 with no insurance.

BOOTLEGGER DE LUXE KILLED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 23.—"Mush" Gordon, alleged bootlegger de luxe, whose slaying last night in front of the Palace Theatre here threw hundreds of theatre goers into a panic, was identified through police records here today as a former New York and Philadelphia thief and burglar with a police record extending over a dozen years.

Gordon's real name, the identification record here shows, police say, is Morris Bernstein and his home is in New York.

According to police records he was held in Philadelphia in 1916 on two charges of larceny and one of conspiracy.

He was known here as Morris Goldman and as Morris "Mush" Goldman, occupying a luxurious suite in a north side apartment hotel under the name of Goldman.

Jazz Baby Goes On Trial For Murder Of Mother

Battle of Alienists To Mark Effort to Convict Child

San Francisco, March 23.—Dorothy Ellingson, 16 year old "jazz baby" was to go on trial today for the murder of her mother.

As the case was called in superior court, attorneys for the girl backed by an imposing array of alienists were prepared to fight for her liberty.

With the same impetuous calm, which has been broken but once since the girl was arrested for shooting her mother, Dorothy faced the prospect today of a bitterly fought trial in which her liberty for the balance of her days was at stake.

She rose early today at the county jail and donned the dress she wore at her preliminary hearing—one of those she hastily packed and carried with her when she fled from the cottage in which she shot her mother following a reprimand for staying out late the night before.

The trial today was expected to bring about one of the greatest battles of alienists ever staged in the west.

Psychiatrists, psychologists, medical experts and pathologists will all be called by the defense in an effort to show that Dorothy was unable to resist the slaying impulse that her deed was the result of her constitutional makeup. The defense is not expected to make a strong plea for the girl's release but will endeavor to show that, with proper training and medical care Dorothy can be returned to society safely.

Selection of a jury was expected to occupy the greater part of today and tomorrow.

Dorothy has expressed the hope that women will not sit as her judges on the jury. There are many women in the jury panel from which the selection will be made.

HOPES OF FINDING ANY OF ENTOMBED MEN ALIVE GIVEN UP

Four Men Still Imprisoned
Certain To Be Dead—Rescue
Chieftain Now Declares

On Board U. S. Bureau of Mines Rescue Car No. 3 At The Mouth of Mine 41, Barracksville, W. Va., March 23.—"There isn't a chance the four men still in the mine are alive. We based all our hopes of rescuing anyone alive on the twenty-nine men we have since brought out dead and the four men still entombed are in a part of the mine where the explosion struck hardest."

Chief R. M. Lambie, of the state department of mines, who has been in charge of all rescue work at the mine of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, made this official statement to International News Service today, confirming semi-official intimations of the rescue workers that none of the thirty-three miners entombed by an explosion of undetermined origin in the mine last Tuesday night would be rescued alive. Lambie said he expected to reach the remaining four bodies before daylight.

POSSE SEARCHES FOR YOUNG WIFE SLAYER

Charleston, W. Va., March 23.—Virtually every able bodied man in the little lumber town of Orras, Boone county is a member of a posse that today is scouring surrounding hills for Lawrence Woods, 26, accused of slaying his young wife, with an axe while she lay asleep in her home.

Jealous because his wife rode with another man in her brother's funeral procession, Woods wielded a two-bit axe on her, it was stated.

PROPOSED STATE POLICE BILL TO START CONTROVERSY IN ASSEMBLY

Columbus, March 23.—An entirely new controversial note will be injected into the closing weeks of the legislature tonight when the house bill of Representative Liles, Huron county, providing a force of state highway police for Ohio.

A repetition of the fight in other general assemblies, against state police force, especially on the part of labor unions, is expected.

The Liles bill provides for a police department of the state highway department, administered by a board of four state officials, including the highway director, as chairman; the secretary of state, the attorney general and the adjutant general, and directed by a superintendent, appointed by the board at $4,000 a year. Provision is made for a force of not more than 100 men at initial salaries of $1800 with increases of $60 a year for each year of service after the original enlistment of two years and a maximum salary of $2,100. The policemen would be given powers of arrest without warrant in cases of traffic violations and general police powers while on duty.

The two houses will reconvene this evening for the closing working week of the 1925 session. Night sessions have been ordered every night during the week with the exception of Tuesday night. The legislature is expected to wind up its labors early Saturday morning after the usual last night's grind and then to recess to April 12.

REFORMS ARE URGED TO CHECK MARRIAGE AT TOO YOUNG AGE

Russell Sage Foundation In Report Suggests Law Changes
To Halt Juvenile Weddings

New York City, March 23.—There is need for important reforms in the marriage laws and their administration, either or both in practically every State in the United States, according to a 150 page report on "Child Marriages," issued here today by the Russell Sage Foundation as the result of a several years' investigation extending into ninety cities in practically every section of the country.

The report, which was prepared by Mary E. Richmond, under whose direction the study was conducted with the collaboration of Fred S. Hall, takes the position that at this stage, reforms must be effected State by State. The report calls for the following ten steps toward a solution of this problem:

1. Work toward a reasonable and enforceable minimum marriageable age law; the minimum for girls should be at least 16; in many States it is still 12.

2. Procure in States which now are without it a law requiring five days' advance notice of intention to marry; such a law is now in operation in eight States.

3. Put the marriage market town out of business; there are at least forty notorious Grotesque Greenes where the exploitation and commercialization of marriage are responsible for numerous child marriages.

4. Through co-operation with the adjoining State, to discourage hasty marriages across the State border, where out-of-town marriages are railroaded through either at the license office, or the justice of the peace office, or both.

5. Know the work of your license issuers, so that the difficulties with which they are now contending singlehanded may be brought to light and that they may be encouraged to use the discretion which the laws of many States now empower them to exercise.

6. Destroy the fee system; in so far as the system of fees in lieu of salaries to license issuers survives it interferes with disinterested character of their service.

7. Strengthen requirements as to proof of age of applicants for marriage licenses; at present no proof of age is required in most marriage license offices and the practice of accepting affidavits leads to falsification by applicants and sometimes by their parents, making possible the marriage of children 11, 12, 13 and 14 years of age.

8. Substitute better evidence of age for affidavits; no other form of evidence is so unsatisfactory. Aside from birth and baptismal certificates, sixteen other forms of documentary evidence of age are suggested in the report.

9. Require both applicants for a marriage license to appear in person before the license issuer.

10. Harmonize the different State laws in which a minimum age is required; the minimum marriageable age should not be lower than the minimum working age, and the compulsory school attendance age should fit into both these others.

Adoption of such reforms, says the report, would act as a check upon those parents who are willing to marry off their boys and girls while they are still children. What is more important, they would protect other parents who never know when some designing person or impulse of the moment may spirit away the immature girl or boy from the home and make the child the victim of an administrative system which is without proper safeguards.

EXPECT WOMAN SHOT BY SON-IN-LAW TO DIE

Columbus, O., March 23.—With Mercy Hospital attaches today voting expectation that Mrs. Alena Cha, 57, will die, police stated that they expected to file a first degree murder charge against Mrs. Cha's son-in-law, George Solu, who is being held at city prison, slated for investigation.

He is accused of firing two bullets into Mrs. Cha's body, at Mrs. Cha's home here Sunday night when she sought to prevent Solu from beating his wife.

Explosives were not used by the crude craftsmen but electric drills they confiscated from the store's stock proved effective.

STATIONS ROBBED

Columbus, O., March 23.—Knocking off the combinations of the safes in ten local filling stations, burglars got away with loot of undetermined value early this morning and Sunday night. Eight of these stations are owned by the Columbus Oil Company.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DOUBLE MURDER AND WOUNDING OF THIRD

Husband and Wife Slain—
Woman Fatally Hurt By Unknown Gun User

Chicago, March 23.—A man and a woman were killed, shot dead in their bed, and another woman, living in another flat of the same building perhaps fatally wounded by a charge of buckshot, here today.

Mystery shrouds the killings and the attack.

Police summoned to the scene, were unable to find any clues to the slayers or establish motive for either crime.

The dead: Mrs. Mary Palumbosio, 25, and her husband, Edward, 24. Mrs. Palumbosio's body was found beside her bed. She had been shot through the head, apparently with a sawed off shotgun. She was clothed in her night gown, stockings and bath slippers, which she is believed to have pulled on hurriedly when confronted by her assailant.

Crouched near the body, police found two whimpering children, Carmella, 2, and Arthur, 4.

In the kitchen they found the body of the husband, shot through the eye. Mrs. Marie Pacifico, 43, was wounded when she opened the door to her flat in answer to a knock. A masked man, confronting her, raised a shotgun and fired without a word.

Her husband, Joseph, rushed to the door and the man again raised his weapon, but presumably because the charges had been discharged, lowered it and fled.

The husband told police he could assign no cause for the attack.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR DRIVING CAR WHILE INTOXICATED HERE

A charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated will be placed against Harold Jenks, this city, and a charge of drunk against Clarence Baumbaster, Xenia, at their arraignment in Police Court either Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning. Both men were scheduled to be arraigned in the Jamestown mayor's court Monday afternoon on similar charges.

Jenks drove Baumbaster's machine into a telephone pole in Jamestown Sunday night smashed into an automobile on North Detroit Street damaging both machines, according to a police report.

Baumbaster's Ford touring car was also badly damaged in the afternoon accident, police said. Jenks was arrested by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin. Baumbaster was arrested by Patrolmen Charles Simms and Fred Jones Sunday night.

Talifu, with a population of eighty thousand, was practically wiped out, reports said.

STOCKHOLDER OPENS ATTACK UPON VAN SWERINGEN RAIL MERGER PLAN

Washington, March 23.—The first attack on the plan of the Van Sweringen interests to acquire control by lease of five big railroad systems was made before the interstate commerce commission today by Albert I. Stiles of New York in a petition to intervene in the merger project.

Stiles, who is an engineer and a holder of common stock in the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, assailed the proposed merger plan, claiming the promoters had grossly misrepresented the value of the stock of the dissatisfied shareholders.

Stiles told the commission that the distribution of stock of the new company is grossly disproportionate to the present and potential earning powers of the railroads involved, and on the basis of past years, fairly balanced and appraised, requires the C. and O. to contribute 46 per cent of the consolidated earnings of the new company with a benefit of but 29 per cent of the same.

"This," Stiles claims, "is so unfair, inequitable and discriminatory as to amount to confiscation and fraud against holders of C. and O. stock."

CAREFUL RECHECK OF DEAD LOWERS TOLL IN STORM SWEEP STATES

TRY THIS ON A JUDGE
Johannesburg, South Africa, Mar. 23.—It is revealed that natives are now using witchcraft to hypnotize magistrates into giving verdicts in their favor.

In a recent case before the courts a native paid a witch doctor a large sum to attend the court and exercise his art. His presence was discovered by the prosecuting attorney, however, and he was ordered to leave the court.

MUSSOLINI OFFERS SECURITY PACT TO BRITAIN IS REPORT

Plan Would Exclude France—
London Office Denies Supposed
Offer Given Publicity

London, March 23.—Premier Mussolini of Italy has offered Great Britain a security pact which would exclude France, according to a Paris dispatch to the Daily Chronicle.

The London office denied the Chronicle story of Mussolini's supposed offer and stated that security pact negotiations still were in the informal stage and were being conducted through diplomatic channels with Berlin and Paris.

Britain has asked Germany to elucidate further her pact offer.

England has rejected the proposal, the dispatch stated but France is aroused over Mussolini's move. Security pact negotiations were gaining momentum today. The French ambassador, M. Fauriol, has returned to Paris to report to Premier Herriot on the situation. Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, will report to the house tomorrow on the progress made thus far.

The German embassy has cleared up some of the points of the German proposal with the announcement of Germany's intention to join the league of nations.

Britain is inclined to consider the German proposal favorably but Poland's objection will have to be met. It is based on Germany's willingness to guarantee her western borders, but reluctance to guard her eastern borders, preferring to submit any dispute there to arbitration.

Poland is an ally of France, therefore Premier Herriot finds himself in a dilemma as a result of the German plan.

MAN MAY DIE FROM GASOLINE BURNS

SUBJECT POUNDS HIS EAR WHILE CROWDS MAKE WISE CRACKS

Arthur Pope, does not seem to be a bit bashful, for he takes his overdose of sleeping where where thousands of people can see him.

He is now peacefully sleeping in L. S. Barnes' window with apparently not a worldly care. He was hypnotized by Dr. Nichols, who will perform at the Bijou Theater, commencing Monday night and is sleeping thirty hours. He will be awakened on the Bijou stage Monday night during the performance.

Many humorous remarks are heard, and, of course, the police force is made the victim of these puns. Some of the remarks were: That fellow is a natural-born cop—he can sleep in the busiest corner.—day or night!

But Mr. Pope pays no attention to any one and continues to sleep in apparent peace and happiness.

BELIEVE COUNTY TO EXCEED QUOTA FOR TRIP TO CAMP KNOX

Enrollment campaign for the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Camp Knox, Ky., is going forward steadily with indications that Greene County's quota of twenty-six will be obtained at an early date, according to H. D. Smith, county chairman.

The county reached and passed the quota last year, and bids fair to surpass that mark of thirty-five this year, Chairman Smith said.

The county has responded to the campaign with a total of fifteen candidates who will take the thirty days training with last week's report on enlistments yet to be announced.

Medical examiners, students and local chairman are directing the drive in the county and as June 1 is the final date for registration, it is hoped to fill the county's quota as early as possible so that all applicants accepted may share in the course.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

WHY THIS FLUCTUATION?

Just as pie without ice cream brings a lower price than with ice cream, so does a stock "ex-dividend" bring a lower price than one "cum dividend."

The market quotations show some stocks to have sold "ex-dividend" some days. When a corporation declares a dividend it is customary for the dividend to be payable (let us say) October 15 to stockholders of record October 1st. Literally speaking this means, that those who own stock, and in whose name the certificate stands on the books on October 1st will receive a dividend check on October 15. Thus on October 2nd the stock is sold to purchasers who will not receive a dividend check on October 15, and the stock is said to be "ex-dividend."

The market price of the stock on the day it is ex-dividend usually discounts the loss of dividends. All other market factors being equal, if a stock sells at 35, and carries with it a dividend check of seventy five cents a quarter, the day it becomes ex-dividend the price will usually discount the dividend and sell at 34.25.

BERNARD MACFADDEN

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Diet is of very great importance in constipation. If one persists in eating white bread, cakes, pies and other constipating foods, to bring about a regular action of the bowels will be much more difficult than if wholesome and nourishing foods with "roughage" are used.

In detail, I would advise the sufferer from constipation to eat a breakfast consisting of an orange or apple. Drink freely of water during the forenoon and eat the first meal at one o'clock, or thereabouts, chewing every morsel very thoroughly, eating rye or whole wheat bread instead of white bread. During each meal the appetite should be encouraged for green salads of all sorts. All vegetables not overcooked will be found of advantage. An especially good food under these circumstances is the whole grain of corn or wheat, simmered for from three to five hours in milk, and eaten slowly, with butter or sugar, whichever appeals the more.

In nearly every case the desired result will be produced, though one must not expect to remedy in a few days a trouble which has been chronic for months, and perhaps years.

Results will appear much more quickly if several one-day fasts are taken, with two days of eating intervening. This may be found difficult of accomplishment at first, but it only requires a little strength of will.

About the most effective diet for treatment of constipation, and one which is usually productive of results almost at once, is the raw diet, consisting of raw vegetables, grains, fruits, milk and the like. Of course this will not appeal to the average person and will be found necessary only in extraordinary cases. However, if the case is so severe that the regimen already recommended does not produce results with sufficient speed, I would strongly advise the adoption of the raw diet. Cabbage in its natural state makes a most delicious dish, and those who become accustomed to eat it thus, when sliced or chopped, prefer it to cabbage in the cooked state. It has a very beneficial effect in constipation and at the same time cools and purifies the blood. Onions are also blood purifiers and when eaten raw are of more benefit than when cooked.

WILBERFORCE

Examinations were held last week for the closing of the second quarter of the school and the students were given Friday and Saturday for vacation. The work for the third quarter started Tuesday. The instructors and students will be kept very busy until school closes on the third Thursday in June when commencement exercises will be held.

Mr. Ramon Silvoux, a native of Spain and a graduate of the University of Rome, now located in Springfield and giving lessons in Spanish, French, Italian and Hebrew, was the guest of Prof. A. J. White for a few hours Sunday afternoon.

Mr. M. T. Yamamoto, representing the Tokyo Chamber of Commerce and Federated Chamber of Commerce of Japan, with headquarters in Tokyo, Japan, was calling on the professors of the various departments the first of the week.

President Gilbert Jones gave a dinner Thursday evening in the dining room of Shorter Hall in honor of Founders' Day Committee for its successful financial rally for the school on February 24th. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and streamers in colors of Green and Gold which represented the colors of the school.

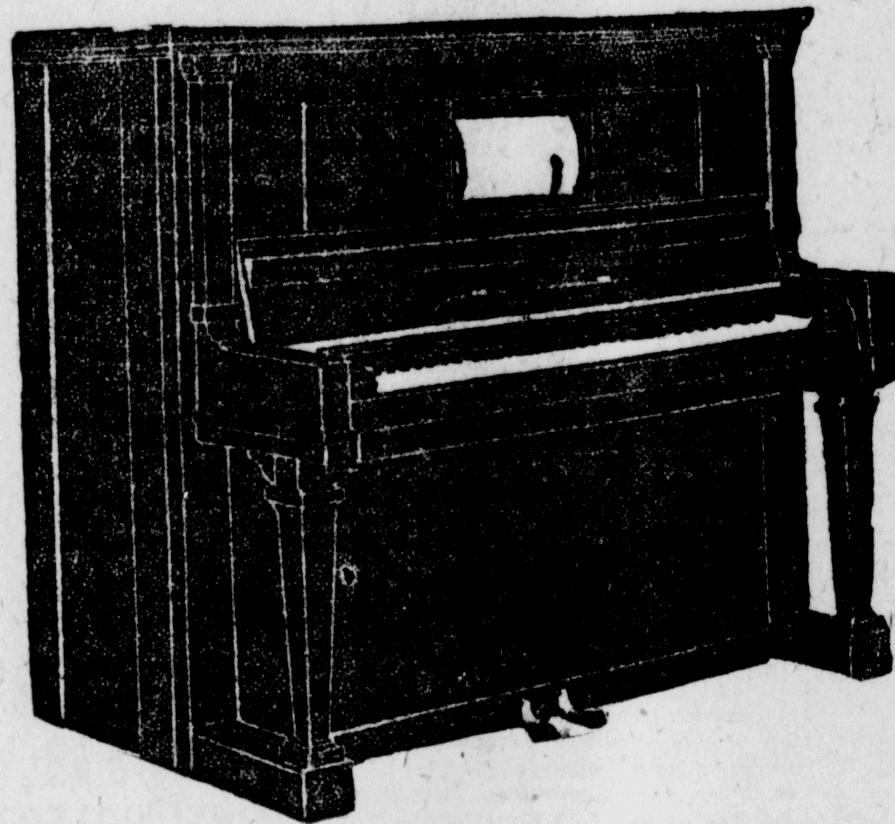

After an enjoyable menu of five courses, the Wilberforce Quartette favored the guests with several of their popular songs. President Jones gave a very inspiring talk, complimenting the committee for its work, that it was one of the most successful Founders' Day rallies in the history of the school in as much as the students and friends of the school gave liberal donations without the assistance of the trustees who had, heretofore, taken part in the rallies.

MARRIAGE TAKES PLACE AT OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

In Lambda Pi Omega Sorority House, 19 Eighteenth Avenue, Columbus, at 4:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon, Miss Arlyn Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Pearson, West Milton, O., was married to Mr. C. Russell Huston, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Huston, Xenia.

The Rev. Mr. Fowler, the University M. E. pastor, read the nuptial service in the presence of fifty-five guests.

Miss Virginia Pearson, sophomore at the Ohio State University, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and Mr. Carol Eby, was Mr. Huston's best man.

The bride wore a beaded gown of King's Blue Canton crepe and carried pink roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister wore coral crepe de chine.

The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized. A reception followed the ceremony and luncheon was served with a color scheme of pink and white, a beautiful bride's cake adorning the center of the table.

Mrs. Huston is a member of Lambda Pi Omega Sorority, and was recently named as one of the best athletes in the Ohio State University, gaining the title when she received the Varsity "O" sweater. This is a mark of distinction as only seven other girls in the University received sweaters at that time. Mrs. Huston will graduate in June in the College of Arts Education.

Mr. Huston is a member of Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity and completed the course in the College of Agriculture at the Ohio State University on his wedding day.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. Huston will begin his work of test feeding at Gayhead Farm, Coxsackie, N. Y. After her graduation, his bride will join him and they will reside at that place.

MANY DOG OWNERS FAIL TO GET TAGS

Conflicting statistics in the form of interesting data on the canine population of Greene County are available in the County Auditor's office.

For instance it is estimated that there are at least 6,000 dogs, male and female in the county, according to County Auditor R. O. Wead. However, dog licenses sold in 1925 total but slightly more than half the estimated number, or 3,041.

This total is even a decrease from the 1924 number sold which was 3,363 according to Auditor Wead, proving that many owners of dogs failed to procure licenses during the last two years.

Deputy Sheriff George Spencer, together with his assistants, has posed of a number of tagless dogs this year and a general campaign against dogs without licenses is being made with fines following for the owners, it is said.

WHEN WOMEN CEASE TO WED

WHEN we read what on less an authority than Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, eminent for many years in scientific research, has to say regarding the progress being made by women and the probability of their ultimate entire emancipation from the male, we have cause for wonderment as to just how long it will be before the human race—the white race at least—dies out entirely.

Intelligence, leisure and wealth are the most certain mediums of approach to power and far reaching influence, and modern women are rapidly advancing in practical intelligence while they have a larger measure of leisure time and often the means to be devoted to good causes. In this respect they have a decided advantage over men who are generally busy with the immediate necessities of the day. Modern women are essentially vital in their public interests and for this, if for no other reason, they are rapidly achieving the goal of the ultra feminists—the position of the dominant sex. Dr. Hoffman believes that it is perhaps only a matter of another generation until women will demonstrate their relative superiority over men, both intellectually and physically. In the furtherance of good causes, leisure time is of the first importance. Man provides the leisure for the women and here in America man is undeniably proud of his gift to the other sex, though touchingly unapprehensive concerning the inevitable results. From data obtained as the result of thirty years of research and compilation of statistics, an unmistakable trend towards the reversal of sex influence and position is revealed. Dr. Hoffman points out, however, that the one uncertain factor which cannot be dealt with as a matter of scientific certainty, is the ever-present question of marriage.

This eminent scientist seems to be very much cheered up over the fact that "the number of unmarried women is rapidly increasing in all civilized countries and that the sex equilibrium is leaning more and more towards an excess of women." Isn't it about time for men to pause and wonder as to just how long it will be until this "ever increasing number of unmarried women" will become unanimous—and then what will become of both men and women with no generations to follow?

ONCE UNDER SUSPICION

GAS was once looked upon with as much suspicion as would attach to the presence of a delegation of bootleggers at a law-enforcement meeting.

One hundred and eleven years ago, a great crowd gathered on Westminster Bridge, in London. A new chapter was about to be written in the world's history of inventions. The famous bridge was about to be lighted by gas.

Suddenly the bridge was flooded with light. The crowd fell back, bewildered. An engineer stepped forward and touched the gas pipes. He invited a member of Parliament to do likewise. This gentleman refused until he had borrowed heavy gloves. He believed the pipes contained fire and would burn him.

When electricity supplanted gas as an illuminant, people believed that gas was doomed. But today it is one of the great heating agents of the world and is produced in greater quantities than ever before.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

FELLOW PASSENGERS

We were fellow passengers upon a local train, and some of us wore tailored suits and some wore garments plain. A woman turned her little girl into the aisle to play and smiled to hear her childish talk to all along the way.

Oh, we were fellow passengers! Good people all and true. We spoke and acted on that train as good folks always do. But one there was who seemed to be attracted by the child.

And as she stopped to talk with him he stroked her head and smiled. He purchased candy from the man who had such stuff to sell. He charmed that little maiden with the tales he had to tell; And when the mother took her up, we heard that child declare; "Oh, Mamma, there's the nicest man I've ever met back there!"

We thought he was the nicest man until he rose to go.

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical. S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

Today's Talks

HE WHO WAITED

For more than 30 years W. H. Hudson, the great naturalist, literally starved his body that he might some day give his love of all that is beautiful to his world.

Few men have ever lived who loved the mute animals and insects of the world as did this man. And he would spend days and months watching, studying and observing every detail of the life of an inhabitant of the forest.

His beautifully written book "Green Mansions" is one of the rarest pieces of prose writing in all literature. It came from the heart of a poet whose soul thirsted for beauty and was satisfied.

The sweet song of a bird or its gorgeous coat of colors held his spirit spellbound.

The doctors told him when he was a very young man that he could live but a few years, and yet he died at nearly 80! Who can say but what beauty in the man's heart far and away compensated for all its inherited weakness and irregularity?

And this was the man who lived in a poor quarter of London and who went hungry most of his life and took in payment during these years nothing but rejected manuscripts!

In a letter to his friend, Morley Roberts, he wrote: "When I had not a penny and almost went down on my knees to editors, publishers, and literary agents, I couldn't even get a civil word, and of ten or perhaps 20 manuscripts sent, nine or nineteen would come back. And now when I don't want the beastly money and care nothing for fame and am sick and tired of the whole thing, they actually come and beg a book or article from me!"

This same Morley Roberts says of his friend: "He exhausted any single vein of ore and left the mine."

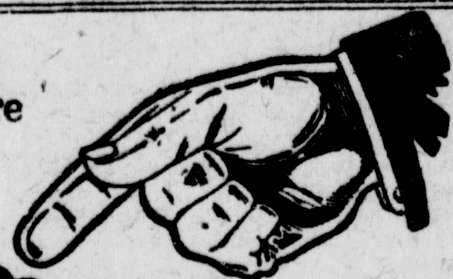

John Galsworthy pays a fine tribute to this gentle lover of the inhabitants of the forest when he says: "His work is a vision of natural beauty and of human life as it might be, quickened and sweetened by the sun and the wind and the rain, and by fellowship with all the other forms of life—the truest vision now being given to us, who are more in want of it than any generation has ever been. A very great writer; and to my thinking—the most valuable our Age possesses."

I quote this from Mr. Galsworthy's Foreword to "Green Mansions" and also this beautiful couplet which he has used— "Out of his heart God shall not pass His image stamped is on every grass."

LITERATURE BLAMED

Cedarville College Notes

Archibald Campbell, national secretary of student volunteer movement, Philadelphia, Pa., spoke to the students of Cedarville College in the chapel, Thursday morning. Mr. Campbell was introduced by Dr. McClesney.

Mr. Campbell is a missionary, having spent a number of years of service in China, and is now making a tour of the colleges in America, telling the students of conditions in the Orient.

His subject was "The Need of Foreign Nations." He told the students he did not want to appear a pessimist but there was more trouble and sorrow in the world today than there ever had been. "There are more non-Christians in the world today, and the progress of Christ is not keeping up with the increase of population," he declared. "The people of the East are living lives of misery, trouble, superstition, vice, disease and sickness, because they have failed to receive help from Christian men and women, because the church was not backing the mission field as it should," he said.

He said Russia, with her radical bolshevism, is sending missionaries, so called, into these countries and they are preaching radicalism and materialism. "It is well enough for the Christian people of America to sit back and let things go, that is easy, but we are paving a road to destruction and strife. The world doesn't need a new set of ethical standards, the ones we have have been tried and proved good in generations past; what we need is a change of heart, for the conditions of the world reflect the hearts of men," he said.

"The program of the church is inadequate. Missionaries, missionaries need a real backing. College graduates have been the leaders in all reform movements," said Mr. Campbell in an appeal to the students to make their lives count and be one of service to their fellow-men.

Mr. Campbell was the guest of the Dining Club, Wednesday evening. Mr. Campbell led a discussion group of boys and girls, who are interested in foreign missions and discussed with them all points of interest.

Dr. and Mrs. McClesney gave a reception at their home on Xenia Avenue, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to the students of Cedarville College, Seminary, Greene County Normal, Music Department and the faculty.

A salad and ice course were served. Two hundred guests were received. Red carnations were used as decorations. Several contests were the features of the evening. The only out-of-town guests were Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Aultman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Xenia.

At the close of the party the students joined in the college song and Mr. McClesney led in cheers for the President and his wife.

MODISH MITZI—Every Hat Has A Right Angle

By JAY V. JAY

The Goofer has just volunteered to run them out to the club—Polly, Mitzi, and Adelaide. He's just got time before a business appointment. "It will only take a minute to put on our hats," says Mitzi wondering which she will put on. The Goofer believes her.

With so little hair to put under a hat one would think that it could be done quickly. But every hat has its right angle which coincides with smartness. One must find this angle at all costs—of time and patience. Notice the point of Mitzi's bob comes in the center of her hat.

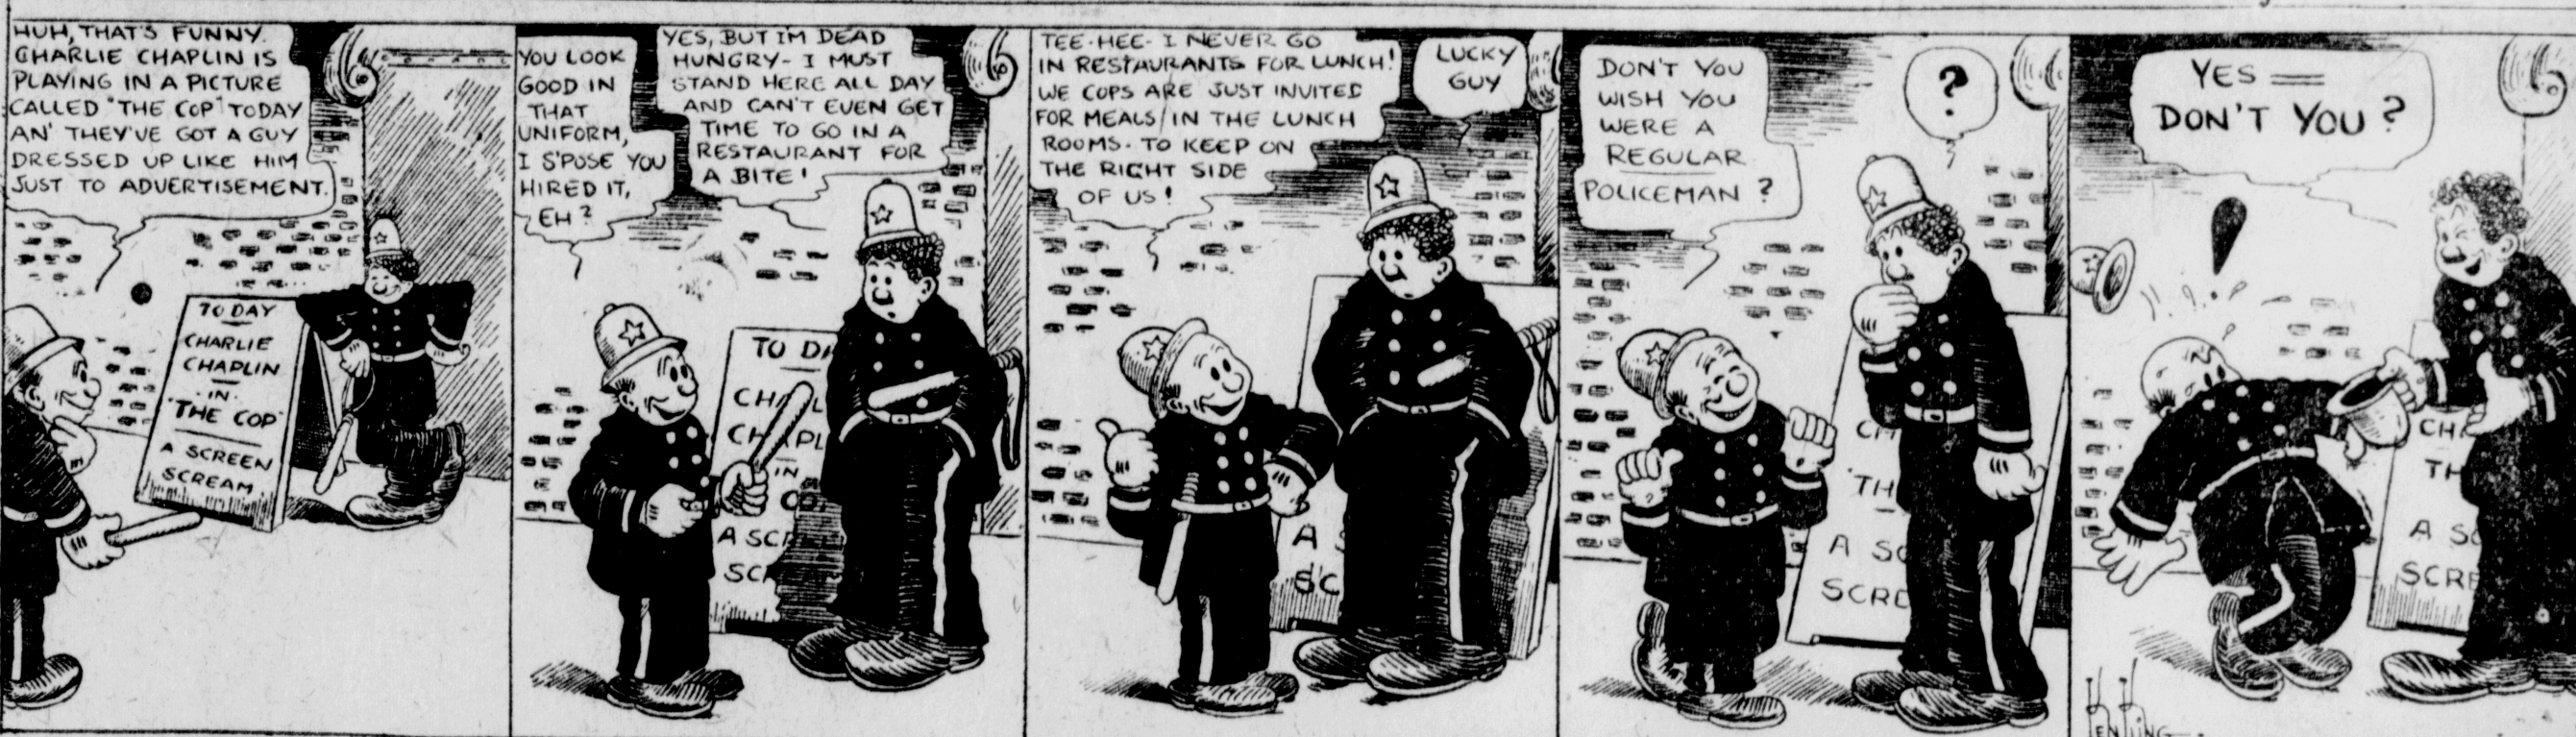

Adelaide finds that her hat looks smartest when she shows a tiny fringe in back and small blonde side-locks. "Only a minute now," pacifies Adelaide. "You've only taken about 30 already," unsympathetically replies the Goofer whose afternoon has been shot to pieces.

The rear view of Polly's felt hat may be admired for the smart way in which it fits her head. The few golden locks that sneak out from under the brim at the back are intentional. It took time to get this effect. The Goofer will tell you it did! His own hat requires a single gesture. Well, he never will understand women it seems.

OLD JOHN CONFIDENCE PEPS UP PIRATE CAMP AND PLAYERS BELIEVE THIS IS THEIR YEAR

BY ELLIS H. MARTIN

Paso Robles, Calif., March 23—Confidence, that intangible element possession or lack of which frequently makes or breaks baseball clubs, fairly abounds this year in the Pirate spring training camp here.

From Barney Dreyfuss, veteran president of the Pittsburgh National League club, down to the local bat boy and including peppery Bill McKechnie, hustling manager and every one of the fifty men in camp here, there seems to be a feeling that this is to be the Pirates' year.

McKechnie naturally expects to carry off predictions.

"It's too soon to say how the club is going to shape up," he said today, as he directed practice. But he hastened to indicate that he was in no wise displeased with the way things were shaping up and he was looking toward the opening of the season in an optimistic frame of mind. The collective eye of the baseball squad management, camp followers and baseball critics is trained on one addition to the Pirate squad. He is Al Neihaus. The Pirates need a first baseman and indications are that in Neihaus they have found one.

He led the Southern Association in batting last year and is starting out in practice here like he meant to do something just like that this year in big company. If Neihaus can hit, runs the gossip, the Pirates are just about made.

For in Glenn Wright at shortstop, Moore at second and "Pie" Traynor at third, McKechnie has a collection of infield speed demons that are going to run away with something Add Carey, Cuyler and Bigbee to this trio as speed merchants on the bases and an idea is gleaned that a lot of bases are going to be purloined by the 1925 Pirate aggregation.

The outfield will be a veteran one. Cuyler, who has been lamming them over the left field fence here, will be in right, "Scoop" Carey in center and Bigbee in left. Grantham and Barnhart are struggling like demons to break into this combination but they are finding the chance slim. But they are going to add a lot of collective strength to the team and if the breaks give them a chance "watch their smoke."

Earl Smith, who hits left handed, is back of the plate with Gooch to assist him in the heavy work. And in pitching—there comes another "if."

The veterans haven't had time enough to show what they will be able to do this year and it's too early to get a line on the youngsters. But all are agreed, that Paso Robles is an ideal place for the pitchers to get into shape. Friendly mountains shelter the playing field from breezes that put kinks in tender muscles that are being worked into shape.

From all indications the Pirates are getting away this year to an auspicious start. With one or two exceptions, notably Barnhart, who was kept at home by family illness, and Pitcher Vic Aldridge, who hasn't signed, the squad showed up here in clock-like fashion. And they're a likely looking bunch. There were few who packed extra poundage and all are in exceptionally fit condition.

So perhaps the confidence that seems to abound, is not misplaced and this may be a Pirate year. At any rate McKechnie is going to have a fast, hard hitting, well balanced aggregation that with any sort of break is going to make the pennant race in the senior league something to talk about.

Sporttime Stories

BROADCAST BY STATION WONES

All hail to the fighting athletes of the Springfield High basketball squad who on Saturday night at Columbus came through with a great and well deserved victory in the finals of the state championship which they won by beating Lakewood High of Cleveland by a 32 to 30 score in a game that required two overtime periods to decide. Reports of the game say the teams were about evenly matched in all departments save one and this was to come from behind. Springfield fought an uphill battle all the way. It was the same thing a week ago when it defeated Stivers at Dayton. Coach Matheny's lads were beaten but they would not give up and fought hard and succeeded in knotting the score. They finally won out in the overtime period.

It took Coach Matheny two seasons to build a team that copped the state crown. It was in the season of 1923 that Joe Keyser, Carter and Crist started playing with the Reapers regularly. Springfield showed here earlier in the season against Central High and won by a 24 to 18 score. At that time the Clark County five had played three games while it was the locals first of the season. In that game Joe Keyser, who was picked as all state forward, was held to three lone fielders while Carter, picked as all state guard, made two from the field. Zell, Buell and Holton watched these boys like hawks that night.

Systems used in the training camps by big league managers in preparing their teams for the long grinds differ a little. Most managers favor a single practice session in most cases from 10 in the morning until 1 in the afternoon. In the event that one of the veterans feels he has had enough before that time has expired he has the privilege of quitting.

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds and John McGraw of the New York Giants are the two exceptions. There are two practice sessions in the camps of the Reds and Giants. A limbering up in the morning while in the afternoon a game is played. Both McGraw and Hendricks say that the athletes go south to train, not for a vacation. If hard work and earnest effort make for good physical condition the Reds will no doubt come north perfectly fit.

The Eagles Athletic Club is going to redeem itself in the eyes of the sport loving public when on Tuesday night at Eagles hall, it will put on another wrestling show that is a bit different from anything ever tried around these parts. Pete Montana of Cedar Rapids, Ia., is going to do the "Iron Man" stunt when he takes on George Gatsoff of Massillon, O., and Bull Gossard of London in a time limit match. Montana agrees to throw both two out of three falls in sixty minutes. In the event that he fails he does not receive one cent for his work. This match should prove exciting as all three grapplers are willing workers on the mat. In the semi-finals Specs Crawford, local colored flash, will get his chance when he meets Kid Black of Springfield. Crawford defeated Wead last week while Black lost a tough decision to Les Fishbaugh at Columbus. They are about evenly matched and the fur show it when they clash.

It's a record run

THE most popular show on Broadway and the most popular cigarette—each proves anew the old adage that "the surest way to win success is to deserve it."

Chesterfield's popularity is no accident. It has been earned by sheer good taste—the full-bodied richness and fragrance of exceptional tobaccos, perfectly blended.

And Chesterfield continues its record-breaking run, winning more and more smokers every day, because it is deserved.

Such popularity must be deserved

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

THE LOST PANTALOONS.
It chanced to be my golfing day,
The thunder loud was roaring,
I carried water to the bay
And left the gray there snoring;
I thought that I'd a golfing go,
For I had loads of riches,
When, Lord! a dreadful thing I found—
My wife had on my breeches.
I tried on all her petticoats,
Alas, I couldn't wear 'em,
But in my pants she played at golf,
And how I feared she'd tear 'em,
They were my finest woolen pair,
Without a patch or stitches;
I could do naught but stand and swear
And wish I had my breeches.
That night when from the course she came
How changed from what I knew them,
My tailored pants were not the same.
One more such trip would rue them.
I saw the wide and ghastly rents
Where golf course briars had torn them,
They looked like they cost 15 cents
And I for years had worn them.
O, sorry day, when woman learned
To wear her husband's breeches,
For now her head to golf is turned
And turned away from stitches;
And tho' her wardrobe through he gleams
And through it all he calm is,
He finds he can't replace his jeans—
He can't wear her pajamas.

Great Esteemed Orator Auld says the committee has reported favorably on Longfellow Smallpox for the Hammer Club. Several other applications have been received. A merchant near the Hammer Club headquarters is among those who have petitioned.

FOUNDLING ADOPTED

Elyria, March 23—Betty Rose—christened by Sheriff Underhill—abandoned on a doorstep at Wellington, will have to remain in this county six months before her residence can be established. Thus ruled Probate Judge Wilcox. The waif has been in the custody of Charles Edwards and wife, who filed application papers for adoption of the youngster. A month prior, a baby boy was abandoned in a suitcase at the Big Four depot, also, at Wellington. This baby, too, has been adopted here.

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup"
Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Hurry Mothers! Even a fretful, feverish, bilious or constipated child loves the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow.

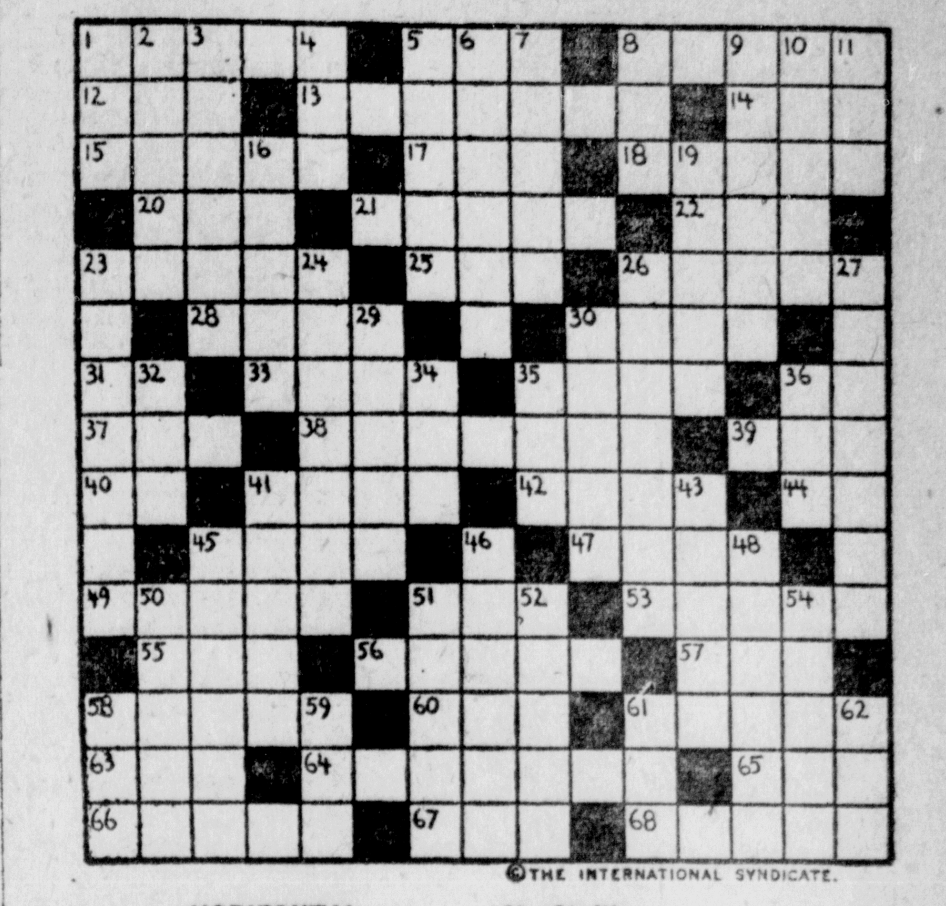

Ask your Druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.—Adv.

INDUSTRY CREATES BUILDING BOOM IN OSBORN SAYS RICE

The erection of two large branch plants by the Wabash and the Portland cement companies near Osborn, has caused an unprecedented building boom in the close vicinity, according to Morris Rice, Osborn attorney.

The value of lots has soared, and The International Development Company of Dayton, has completed a real estate transaction acquiring 115 acres in the Bath Township school district, which are being plotted off into regulation lots, with a frontage of fifty feet and depth of about 135 feet.

Other recent real estate transactions involving about forty more acres have been consummated.

Attorney Rice declared that the cement companies are hiring labor in day and night shifts, making a total of about 800 workers employed regularly during the construction of the plants.

A number of the laborers come from nearby cities but a majority are buying lots and houses preparatory to living near their work.

Attorney Rice estimated that the joint population of Fairfield and Osborn would reach 5,000 within a few years.

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "Luxury of Love," "The Husband Tamer," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND's husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA, and all her world, Cynthia turns to CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XLIV—A CRUEL SHOCK

CYNTHIA arrived in San Francisco late in the afternoon. She had not realized that there would be no one to meet her at the station; riding across the bay in the ferry she had somehow expected that her husband would welcome her on the San Francisco side.

Of course, he had said that he was in the hospital—yet she had thought that possibly he might be able to meet her; if he had been seriously ill surely he would have informed his family of the fact.

But there was no Jim to single her out of the crowd of arriving passengers. Made doubly lonely by the fact that all about her other people's friends and families were welcoming them, she gave her bag to a porter and followed him to a taxi.

"St. Peter's Hospital," she told the driver, and sank back in a corner of the seat, to stare out at the unfamiliar streets through which they passed.

She was eager to see Jim and find out what he wanted to do about the situation that had arisen between them since his departure for Honolulu. Over and over she told herself that it must be his mother who was ill—that it couldn't be Jim or his family would have known. The mother would have let them know, even if Jim hadn't wanted to. And yet—

Hospitals had always frightened Cynthia, as she stepped out of the cab she looked up at the grim white pile that was St. Peter's with fear in her heart. If it should be Jim who was sick—what would she do then?

She went slowly up the steps, across the hall and into the waiting room. Perhaps Jim would be there. On the train she had wired him the time of her arrival.

But there was no Jim; only a painfully competent young woman who looked at her questioningly.

"I want to see—that is, is Mr. James Leland a patient here?" she asked.

The young woman glanced at a book that lay on her desk.

"Yes—he's in room 708," she answered.

"Is he—may I see him?" It was Jim, then, who was ill! "Just a moment, I'll see."

The young woman set down at the desk, and began expertly to manipulate the switchboard. Cynthia's heart sank.

At last the attendant turned to her again.

"Mr. Leland is still on the operating table," she announced. "You probably won't be able to see him till tomorrow."

The room swam about Cynthia. Blindly she turned toward the door and took a few staggering steps in the direction of the outer door. Someone grasped her arm firmly and half-carried her to the entrance. She was conscious of a fresh, damp air blowing against her face, of a kind voice saying: "Sit down here a moment and you will be all right."

When she looked up she saw a stranger bending over her, a man who smiled and patted her on the shoulder.

"I'm one of the doctors here," he told her at once. "I was on my way out when you fainted."

"Oh, then—perhaps you can tell me—my husband is a patient here, and she said he was on the operating table—I don't even know what the matter with him—" Cynthia's voice rose hysterically.

"Don't be frightened; come with me and we'll find out all about him." He took Cynthia's arm and led her back into the hospital; paused a moment at the desk, questioned the attendant, and then took Cynthia down the hall to the elevator.

Hospitals always frightened Cynthia.

"I'm going to take you up to a quiet room where you can wait until you know how your husband is," he told her. "The operation he is having is not a serious one, and you have no cause to worry about him."

Part of the roof had been turned into a huge sun parlor, and it was there that he found a big chair for Cynthia with cushions to place at her back. He persuaded her to take off her hat and wrap, and sat down beside her.

"Now, tell me, have you had your dinner?" She shook her head. "Well, neither have I—I was just going out to dine when I met you. So let's have something up here, shall we?"

It was a simple little supper of eggs, tea, fruit and toast that he had prepared in one of the diet kitchens, but Cynthia thought that it tasted better than anything she had eaten in a long time. Doctor Hall—so he had introduced himself—brought with it the news that Jim was back in bed, that everything had gone well, and that as soon as he had recovered from the anesthetic she could see him. She leaned back comfortably and looked down over the city through the huge window beside her.

Tomorrow—A New Friend.

MERCHANT POLICEMAN AND BANDIT KILLED IN KENT GUN BATTLE

SUSPECT ARRESTED DIES IN HOSPITAL OF GUN SHOT WOUND

Two Others Arrested After Fatal Shooting—Autoists Witness Gun Play

Kent, O., March 23.—Clayton Apple, 43, merchant policeman was almost instantly killed and Basslie Nicossa, 26, alleged gunman, died today in an Akron hospital, as the result of a gun battle here this morning, in which Apple engaged three men believed to have been bent upon the murder of another private officer for revenge, robbery or arson.

It was believed that Apple met his death when he halted the three men for questioning. Nicossa and Frank Mollica, 25, were later arrested in Akron. Nicossa, a wound in his abdomen, was taken to the Akron city hospital where he died. A third suspect was reported under arrest at Girard and will be brought here for questioning.

Mollica, questioned by Akron police, admitted having driven from Kent to Akron early this morning, but claimed he picked up Nicossa on the road and knew nothing of him or the gun battle.

Apple and his fellow officer, Medio, resemble each other and both wore uniforms without badges. Police believe the gangsters wanted to kill Medio and mistook Apple for their desired victim when Apple halted them in the street.

Harry Wilson and Alvin McDermott of Kent, witnessed the shootings. They were in a car and saw Apple talking with the three other men. The autoists, thinking a holdup was in progress, drove to the business section for an officer, and finding none, returned just in time to see the shooting begin. Apple was dead when the autoists reached him and his slayers had fled.

FIRE DESTROYS FARM HOME OF C. R. REED

Sparks from a defective flue caused the fire that completely destroyed the residence of C. R. Reed, seven miles north of Jamestown, on the Springfield Pike, Saturday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were in Springfield when the fire occurred, and the flames were discovered in the attic by the Reed children. The house was a large, two-story brick structure with all modern improvements, and stood on a farm of 400 acres.

Neighbors who fought the fire succeeded in saving the kitchen of the house from destruction. The house hold furniture was also saved. Loss is partly covered by insurance.

NITRO-GLYCERIN EXPLODES IN PLANT

Newark, O., March 23.—Five hundred and forty quarts of nitro-glycerin let go with terrific force Sunday afternoon at the Marietta Magazine and Torpedo Company, located near Rock Haven park, twelve miles east of here. So far it is impossible to tell whether anyone was killed, as it is not known whether anyone was in the vicinity at the time.

L. W. King, manager of the plant said that if there was anyone within a thousand yards of the plant, he was blown to atoms.

King states the loss will be conservatively $25,000 with no insurance.

BOOTLEGGER DE LUXE KILLED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 23.—"Mush" Gordon, alleged bootlegger de luxe, whose slaying last night in front of the Palace Theatre here threw hundreds of theatre goers into a panic, was identified through police records here today as a former New York and Philadelphia thief and burglar with a police record extending over a dozen years.

Gordon's real name, the identification record here shows, police say, is Morris Bernstein and his home is in New York.

According to police records he was held in Philadelphia in 1916 on two charges of larceny and one of conspiracy.

He was known here as Morris Goldman and as Morris "Mush" Goldman, occupying a luxurious suite in a north side apartment hotel under the name of Goldman.

Jazz Baby Goes On Trial For Murder Of Mother

Battle of Alienists To Mark Effort to Con- vict Child

San Francisco, March 23.—Dorothy Ellingson, 16 year old "jazz baby" was to go on trial today for the murder of her mother.

As the case was called in superior court, attorneys for the girl backed by an imposing array of alienists were prepared to fight for her liberty.

With the same impetuous calm, which has been broken but once since the girl was arrested for shooting her mother, Dorothy faced the prospect today of a bitterly fought trial in which her liberty for the balance of her days was at stake.

She rose early today at the county jail and donned the dress she wore at her preliminary hearing—one of those she hastily packed and carried with her when she fled from the cottage in which she shot her mother following a reprimand for staying out late the night before.

The trial today was expected to bring about one of the greatest battles of alienists ever staged in the west.

Psychiatrists, psychologists, medical experts and pathologists will all be called by the defense in an effort to show that Dorothy was unable to resist the slaying impulse that her deed was the result of her constitutional makeup. The defense is not expected to make a strong plea for the girl's release but will endeavor to show that, with proper training and medical care Dorothy can be returned to society safely.

Selection of a jury was expected to occupy the greater part of today and tomorrow.

Dorothy has expressed the hope that women will sit as her judges on the jury. There are many women in the jury panel from which the selection will be made.

HOPES OF FINDING ANY OF ENTOMBED MEN ALIVE GIVEN UP

Four Men Still Imprisoned Certain To Be Dead—Rescue Chieftain Now Declares

On Board U. S. Bureau of Mines Rescue Car No. 3 At The Mouth of Mine 41, Barracksville, W. Va., March 23.—"There isn't a chance the four men still in the mine are alive. We based all our hopes of rescuing anyone alive on the twenty-nine men we have since brought out dead and the four men still entombed are in a part of the mine where the explosion struck hardest."

Chief R. M. Lambie, of the state department of mines, who has been in charge of all rescue work at the mine of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, made this official statement to International News Service today, confirming semi-official intimations of the rescue workers that none of the thirty-three miners entombed by an explosion of undetermined origin in the mine last Tuesday night would be rescued alive. Lambie said he expected to reach the remaining four bodies before tonight.

POSSE SEARCHES FOR YOUNG WIFE SLAYER

Charleston, W. Va., March 23.—Virtually every able bodied man in the little lumber town of Orrgas, Boone county is a member of a posse that today is scouring surrounding hills for Lawrence Woods, 26, accused of slaying his young wife, with an axe while she lay asleep in her home.

Jealous because his wife rode with another man in her brother's funeral procession, Woods wielded a two-bit axe on her, it was stated.

SIX ARE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS IN STATE OVER SUNDAY

Four Die When Traction Hits Auto—High School Pupil Killed In Crash

Fremont, O., March 23.—Four persons were dead here today, the result of an accident when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Lake Shore Electric car here last night. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Michaels and daughter, Maryell, 3; Burlie Tuckerman, 26. All lived near Fremont.

JOSHIAH KIRBY TRIAL STARTS SECOND WEEK

Cleveland, March 23.—When the trial of Josiah Kirby, head of the deposed Cleveland Discount Company, swung into its second week today, the state was trying to prove that $220,000 in checks was used to bolster the alleged false financial statement after they had been laid away for a length of time in the cashier's drawer "on somebody's instructions."

By examining Clyde N. Zirm, former general ledger bookkeeper, the prosecutors launched questioning in an effort to show that the $220,000 entry was not made on the ledger until after July 20, 1922, with the contention that the checks were not in existence when the statement says they were.

PUMP SAVES LIVES

Amherst, March 23.—Oiga Baris, 5, was given a spoonful of iodine, by mistake instead of cough medicine, in another section of town, the 3-year-old daughter of Henry Woetchofsky, swallowed gasoline. Dr. G. R. Wiseman pumped out the stomachs of both girls who were expected to recover.

PROPOSED STATE POLICE BILL TO START CONTROVERSY IN ASSEMBLY

Columbus, March 23.—An entirely new controversial note will be injected into the closing weeks labors of the legislature tonight when the house bill of Representative Liles, Huron County, providing a force of state highway police for Ohio.

A repetition of the fight in other general assemblies, against state police force, especially on the part of labor unions, is expected.

The Liles bill provides for a police department of the state highway department, administered by a board of four state officials, including the highway director, as chairman; the secretary of state, the attorney general and the adjutant general, and directed by a superintendent, appointed by the board at $4,000 a year. Provision is made for a force of not more than 100 men at initial salaries of $1500 with increases of $50 a year for each year of service after the original enlistment of two years and a maximum salary of $2,100. The policemen would be given powers of arrest without warrant in cases of traffic violations and general police powers while on duty.

The two houses will reconvene this evening for the closing working week of the 1925 session. Night sessions have been ordered every night during the week with the exception of Tuesday night. The legislature is expected to wind up its labors early Saturday morning after the usual last night's grind and then to recess to April 1.

REFORMS ARE URGED TO CHECK MARRIAGE AT TOO YOUNG AGE

Russell Sage Foundation In Report Suggests Law Changes To Halt Juvenile Weddings

New York City, March 23.—There is need for important reforms in the marriage laws and their administration, either or both in practically every State in the United States, according to a 150 page report on "Child Marriages," issued here today by the Russell Sage Foundation as the result of a several years' investigation extending into ninety cities in practically every section of the country.

The report, which was prepared by Mary E. Richmond, under whose direction the study was conducted with the collaboration of Fred S. Hall, takes the position that at this stage reforms must be effected State by State. The report calls for the following ten steps toward a solution of this problem:

1. Work toward a reasonable and enforceable minimum marriageable age law; the minimum for girls should be at least 16; in many States it is still 12.
2. Procure in States which now are without it a law requiring five days' advance notice of intention to marry; such a law is now in operation in eight States.
3. Put the marriage market town out of business; there are at least forty notorious Gretna Greens where the exploitation and commercialization of marriage are responsible for numerous child marriages.
4. Through co-operation with the adjoining States to discourage hasty marriages across the State border, where out-of-town marriages are railroaded through either at the license office or the justice of the peace office, or both.
5. Know the work of your license issuers, so that the difficulties with which they are now contending singly and that they may be encouraged to use the discretion which the laws of many States now empower them to exercise.
6. Destroy the fee system; in so far as the system of fees in lieu of salaries to license issuers suffices it interferes with disinterested character of their service.
7. Strengthen requirements as to proof of age of applicants for marriage licenses; at present no proof of age is required in most marriage license offices and the practice of accepting affidavits leads to falsification by applicants and sometimes by their parents, making possible the marriage of children 11, 12, 13 and 14 years of age.
8. Substitute better evidence of age for affidavits; no other form of evidence is so satisfactory. Aside from birth and baptismal certificates, sixteen other forms of documentary evidence of age are suggested in the report.
9. Require both applicants for a marriage license to appear in person before the license issuer.
10. Harmonize the different State laws in which a minimum age is required; the minimum marriageable age should not be lower than the minimum working age, and the compulsory school attendance age should fit into both these others.

Adoption of such reforms, says the report, would act as a check upon those parents who are willing to marry off their boys and girls while they are still children. What is more important, they would protect other parents who never know when some designing person or impulse of the moment may spirit away the immature girl or boy from the home and make the child the victim of an administrative system which is without proper safeguards.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DOUBLE MURDER AND WOUNDING OF THIRD

Husband and Wife Slain— Woman Fatally Hurt By Unknown Gun User

Chicago, March 23.—A man and a woman were killed, shot dead in their bed, and another woman, living in another flat of the same building perhaps fatally wounded by a charge of buckshot, here today.

Mystery shrouds the killings and the attack.

Police summoned to the scene, were unable to find any clues to the slayers or establish motive for either crime.

The dead: Mrs. Mary Palumbosio, 25, and her husband, Edward, 24. Mrs. Palumbosio's body was found beside her bed. She had been shot through the head, apparently with a sawed off shotgun. She was clothed in her night gown, stockings and bath slippers, which she is believed to have pulled on hurriedly when confronted by her assailant.

Crouched near the body, police found two whimpering children, Carmella 2, and Arthur 4.

In the kitchen they found the body of the husband, shot through the eye. Mrs. Marie Pacifico, 43, was wounded when she opened the door to her flat in answer to a knock. A masked man, confronting her, raised a shotgun and fired without a word.

Her husband, Joseph, rushed to the door and the man again raised his weapon, but presumably because the charges had been discharged, lowered it and fled.

The husband told police he could assign no cause for the attack.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR DRIVING CAR WHILE INTOXICATED HERE

A charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated will be placed against Harold Jenks, this city, and a charge of drunk against Clarence Baumbaister, Xenia, at their arraignment in Police Court either Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning. Both men were scheduled to be arraigned in the Jamestown mayor's court Monday afternoon on similar charges.

Jenks drove Baumbaister's machine into a telephone pole in Jamestown Sunday night smashed into an automobile on North Detroit Street damaging both machines, according to a police report. Baumbaister's Ford touring car was also badly damaged in the afternoon accident, police said.

Jenks was arrested by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin. Baumbaister was arrested by Patrolmen Charles Simms and Fred Jones Sunday night.

AMERICANS SAVED FROM CHINA QUAKE

Pekin, March 23.—Americans residing in Talifu, the city in western Yunnan destroyed by earthquake and fire March 16, escaped uninjured, according to word received here today at the American legation. No reports as to the number of persons killed and injured at Talifu were received.

STOCKHOLDER OPENS ATTACK UPON VAN SWERINGEN RAIL MERGER PLAN

Washington, March 23.—The first attack on the plan of the Van Sweringen interests to acquire control by lease of five big railroad systems was made before the interstate commerce commission today by Albert I. Stiles of New York in a petition to intervene in the merger project.

Stiles, who is an engineer and a holder of common stock in the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, assailed the proposed merger plan, claiming the promoters had grossly misrepresented the value of the stock of the dissatisfied shareholders.

Stiles told the commission that the distribution of stock of the new company is grossly disproportionate to the present and potential earning powers of the railroads involved, and on the basis of past years, fairly balanced and appraised, requires the C. and O. to contribute 46 per cent of the consolidated earnings of the new company with a benefit of but 29 per cent of the same.

"This," Stiles claims, "is so unfair, inequitable and discriminatory as to amount to confiscation and fraud against holders of C. and O. stock."

He further said that the plan of the promoters to buy the stock of any dissatisfied stockholders "whip dissent and demand payment in cash" by paying there for the average market value of the shares for the six months next preceding the day of meeting, of Chesapeake and Ohio stockholders, was also unfair. The value so fixed, he said, would probably be less than $110 a share for preferred and less than $100 for common, whereas the value of the stock is upwards of $200 and $150, respectively.

"The depreciation of market values is the result of inequities and injustices," Stiles said. "The policy of the promoters is to withhold fair and reasonable dividends proportionate to the earnings and the proposal to purchases for cash at market values so fixed, is a mere sham and pretense of fairness, but in fact is grossly unfair and inequitable."

MUSSOLINI OFFERS SECURITY PACT TO BRITAIN IS REPORT

Plan Would Exclude France— London Office Denies Supposed Offer Given Publicity

London, March 23.—Premier Mussolini of Italy has offered Great Britain a security pact which would exclude France, according to a Paris dispatch to the Daily Chronicle.

The London office denied the Chronicle story of Mussolini's supposed offer and stated that security pact negotiations still were in the informal stage and were being conducted through diplomatic channels with Berlin and Paris.

Britain has asked Germany to elucidate further her pact offer.

England has rejected the proposal, the dispatch stated but France is aroused over Mussolini's move. Security pact negotiations were gaining momentum today. The French ambassador, M. Fieuraux, has returned to Paris to report to Premier Herriot on the situation. Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, will report to the house tomorrow on the progress made thus far.

The German embassy has cleared up some of the points of the German proposal with the announcement of Germany's intention to join the league of nations.

Britain is inclined to consider the German proposal favorably but Poland's objection will have to be met. It is based on Germany's willingness to guarantee her western borders, but reluctance to guard her eastern borders, preferring to submit any dispute there to arbitration.

Poland is an ally of France, therefore Premier Herriot finds himself in a dilemma as a result of the German plan.

TORNADO STRICKEN AREA PREPARES FOR RE-HABILITATION

Doctors and Nurses Rushed to Section to Fight Ty- phoid and Pneumonia

Storm torn Illinois and Indiana girded itself today for its struggle to rehabilitation. While additional doctors and nurses rushed into the devastated areas in the last forty-eight hours fought to stay the threatened epidemic of gas bacillus gangrene, pneumonia and typhoid, following in the wake of the tornado, citizens committees, working with various relief organizations, turned their attention to the rebuilding of the razed cities replanting of the torn acreages of farm land and recapitulation of losses.

The total dead in the five states which felt the tornado's breath today was placed at 694 after careful checking and rechecking by Red Cross officials. Of these 552 were in Illinois: eighty-seven in Indiana, twenty-three in Tennessee, seventeen in Missouri and fifteen in Kentucky. And unless the scourge of pestilence stalk, through the ruined area, it is believed these figures will remain constant.

This, physicians in the district today did not consider likely although they admitted that the danger was still too decidedly acute to permit any great amount of optimism. They pointed out that the ruining of all water and sanitation plants in the storm district, coupled with the living conditions which the tornado had forced, makes the devastated area ripe for various plagues and has, in fact, already brought out cases of violently communicable diseases, but for the most part they believe the victims have been isolated.

Emergency water sterilization plants were in operation today and doctors believe that another 24 hours will see much of the danger of pestilence lifted.

The judge told Koehler that "while there is a certain element of justification in your case, there is also a transgression of law which cannot go unpunished. The court will not change the limits of sentence imposed by law."

"The sentence will be that you serve not less than one and not more than twenty years in the penitentiary."

MANY DOG OWNERS FAIL TO GET TAGS

Conflicting statistics in the form of interesting data on the canine population of Greene County are available in the County Auditor's office.

For instance it is estimated that there are at least 6,000 dogs, male and female in the county, according to County Auditor R. O. Wead. However, dog licenses sold in 1925 total but slightly more than half the estimated number, or 3,041.

This total is even a decrease from the 1924 number sold which was 3,363 according to Auditor Wead, proving that many owners of dogs failed to procure licenses during the last two years.

Deputy Sheriff George Spencer, together with his assistants, has posed a number of tagless dogs this year and a general campaign against dogs without licenses is being made with fines following for the owners, it is said.

WHEN WOMEN CEASE TO WED

WHEN we read what on less an authority than Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, eminent for many years in scientific research, has to say regarding the progress being made by women and the probability of their ultimate entire emancipation from the male, we have cause for wonderment as to just how long it will be before the human race—the white race at least—dies out entirely.

Intelligence, leisure and wealth are the most certain mediums of approach to power and far reaching influence, and modern women are rapidly advancing in practical intelligence while they have a larger measure of leisure time and often the means to be devoted to good causes. In this respect they have a decided advantage over men who are generally busy with the immediate necessities of the day. Modern women are essentially vital in their public interests and for this, if for no other reason, they are rapidly achieving the goal of the ultra feminists—the position of the dominant sex. Dr. Hoffman believes that it is perhaps only a matter of another generation until women will demonstrate their relative superiority over men, both intellectually and physically. In the furtherance of good causes, leisure time is of the first importance. Man provides the leisure for the women and here in America man is undeniably proud of his gift to the other sex, though touchingly unapprehensive concerning the inevitable results. From data obtained as the result of thirty years of research and compilation of statistics, an unmistakable trend towards the reversal of sex influence and position is revealed. Dr. Hoffman points out, however, that the one uncertain factor which cannot be dealt with as a matter of scientific certainty, is the ever-present question of marriage.

This eminent scientist seems to be very much cheered up over the fact that "the number of unmarried women is rapidly increasing in all civilized countries and that the sex equilibrium is leaning more and more towards an excess of women." Isn't it about time for men to pause and wonder as to just how long it will be until this "ever increasing number of unmarried women" will become unanimous—and then what will become of both men and women with no generations to follow?

ONCE UNDER SUSPICION

GAS was once looked upon with as much suspicion as would attach to the presence of a delegation of bootleggers at a law-enforcement meeting.

One hundred and eleven years ago, a great crowd gathered on Westminster Bridge, in London. A new chapter was about to be written in the world's history of inventions. The famous bridge was about to be lighted by gas.

Suddenly the bridge was flooded with light. The crowd fell back, bewildered. An engineer stepped forward and touched the gas pipes. He invited a member of Parliament to do likewise. This gentleman refused until he had borrowed heavy gloves. He believed the pipes contained fire and would burn him.

When electricity supplanted gas as an illuminant, people believed that gas was doomed. But today it is one of the great heating agents of the world and is used in 5,000 different ways in industry and is produced in greater quantities than ever before.

JUST FOLKS

FELLOW PASSENGERS

We were fellow passengers upon a local train. And some of us wore tailored suits and some wore garments plain. A woman turned her little girl into the aisle to play. And smiled to hear her childish talk to all along the way.

Oh, we were fellow passengers! Good people all and true. We spoke and acted on that train as good folks always do. But one there was who seemed to be attracted by the child. And as she stopped to talk with him he stroked her head and smiled.

He purchased candy from the man who had such stuff to sell. He charmed that little maiden with the tales he had to tell; And when the mother took her up, we heard that child declare; "Oh, Mamma, there's the nicest man I've ever met back there!"

We thought he was the nicest man until he rose to go.

And then we all discovered what before we couldn't know—The sheriff sat beside him, and the man the child had kissed. Was on his way to prison with a handcuff on his wrist!

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Today's Talks

HE WHO WAITED

For more than 30 years W. H. Hudson, the great naturalist, literally starved his body that he might some day give his love of all that is beautiful to this world.

Few men have ever lived who loved the mute animals and insects of the world as did this man. And he would spend days and months watching, studying and observing every detail of the life of an inhabitant of the forest.

His beautifully written book "Green Mansions" is one of the rarest pieces of prose writing in all literature. It came from the heart of a poet whose soul thirsted for beauty and was satisfied.

The sweet song of a bird or its gorgeous coat of colors held his spirit spellbound.

The doctors told him when he was a very young man that he could live but a few years, and yet he died at nearly 80! Who can say but what beauty in the man's heart far and away compensated for all its inherited weakness and irregularity?

And this was the man who lived in a poor quarter of London and who went hungry most of his life and took in payment during these years nothing but rejected manuscripts!

In a letter to his friend, Morley Roberts, he wrote: "When I had not a penny and almost went down on my knees to editors, publishers, and literary agents, I couldn't even get a civil word, and of ten or perhaps 20 manuscripts sent, nine or nineteen would come back. And now when I don't want the beastly money and care nothing for fame and am sick and tired of the whole thing, they actually come and beg a book or article from me!"

This same Morley Roberts says of his friend: "He exhausted any single vein of ore and left the mine."

John Galsworthy pays a fine tribute to this gentle lover of the inhabitants of the forest when he says: "His work is a vision of natural beauty and of human life as it might be, quickened and sweetened by the sun and the wind and the rain, and by fellowship with all the other forms of life—the truest vision now being given to us, who are more in want of it than any generation has ever been. A very great writer; and—to my thinking—the most valuable our Age possesses."

I quote this from Mr. Galsworthy's Foreword to "Green Mansions" and also this beautiful couplet which he has used—

"Out of his heart God shall not pass His image stamped in on every grass."

PUPILS TO PRESENT KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS PROGRAMS IN APRIL

Several hundred pupils of the Xenia public schools will take part in the "Know Your Schools" program at the Jean B. Elwell auditorium, Central High School, April 7, 9, and 10.

Teachers are busy preparing the boys and girls for the different programs and each school will present a different group.

Central Junior and Senior High School and Central first grade will present "The Quest of Youth," April 10.

The pageant depicts Youth's wanderings and disappointments from "The Golden Age" through nine other periods, each typical of some era in education.

Early Chinese Education—oldest organized system.

Early Hebrew Education—largely spiritual.

Education in Greece—living happily and beautifully.

Education in Rome—sound mind in a sound body.

Early Christian Education—In monasteries and convents.

Education of Renaissance—Rise of Universities, revival of learning.

Public School Education in England—Schools for middle class.

The Little Red Schoolhouse—New England Schools 1800-1820.

"Grandmother's Garden" will be presented by the first three grades of McKinley School, Thursday evening, April 9. The children will take the parts of flowers, bees, butterflies and all garden-beauty characters.

Grades four, five and six will give a musical fairy play, "Midsummer's Eve." The plot of this piece is a fanciful, fabric and is charming in beauty.

Spring Hill School's Know Your School Program, Tuesday evening, April 7, will consist of a "Manners Drill," by the boys in grades one, two and three and a "Parasol Drill" by the girls in grades one, two and three.

Grades four, five and six will present "Mother Nature's picnic." The scene is Forestland, when Mother Nature invites the seasons, months, birds, flowers, wood nymphs, leaves, elves and the four winds to come to a picnic.

Miss Lois Spahr will give the prologue and the parts will be taken as follows: "Mother Nature," Bernice Bath; "Weatherman," Edwin Bath; "Jack Frost," Ralph Ennis; "Peter Crow," Gerald Morgan; "Winter," Howard Thompson; "Autumn," Frederick Clark; "Summer," Irma Van Horn; "Spring," Geneva Black; "North Wind," Ruth Hubbard; "South Wind," Helen Schwebel; "West Wind," Ethel Cook and "East Wind," Eleanor White.

"A South Sea Holiday" will be given by the Orient Hill pupils, Tuesday evening, the same as that of Spring Hill School. "A South Sea Holiday" is an operetta by the school children and the characters are:

The Family, Molly, Alma Adams; Jack, Richard Ross; Peggy, Elizabeth Eavey; Bobby, and Peter, the twins, Vernon Honaker and Marvin Yeager; Baby Grace, Freda Sprigg; Hawaiian Girl, Alberta Murray; Bamboo Fairy, Lois McCoy; Drills by, Fairies, Butterflies, Bears, Ginger-bread Men and Japanese Boys.

Gay and clever costumes will be worn by the children taking part in the performances and the programs will climax the entertainment and dramatic features of the school year.

Cedarville College Notes

Archibald Campbell, national secretary of student volunteer movement, Philadelphia, Pa., spoke to the students of Cedarville College in the chapel, Thursday morning. Mr. Campbell was introduced by Dr. McClesney.

Mr. Campbell is a missionary, having spent a number of years of service in China, and is now making a tour of the colleges in America, telling the students of conditions in the Orient.

His subject was "The Need of Foreign Nations." He told the students he did not want to appear a pessimist but there was more trouble and sorrow in the world today than there ever had been. "There are more non-Christians in the world today, and the progress of Christ is not keeping up with the increase of population," he declared. "The people of the East are living lives of misery, trouble, superstition, vice, disease and sickness, because they have failed to receive help from Christian men and women, because the church was not backing the mission field as it should," he said.

He said Russia, with her radical bolshevism, is sending missionaries, so called, into these countries and they are preaching radicalism and materialism. "It is well enough for the Christian people of America to sit back and let things go, that is easy, but we are paving a road to destruction and strife. The world doesn't need a new set of ethical standards, the ones we have have been tried and proved good in generations past; what we need is a change of heart, for the conditions of the world reflect the hearts of men," he said.

"The program of the church is inadequate. Missionaries. Missionaries need a real backing. College graduates have been the leaders in all reform movements," said Mr. Campbell in an appeal to the students to make their lives count and be one of service to their fellow-men.

Mr. Campbell was the guest of the Dining Club, Wednesday evening.

Mr. Campbell led a discussion group of boys and girls, who are interested in foreign missions and discussed with them all points of interest.

Dr. and Mrs. McClesney gave reception at their home on Xenia Avenue, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to the students of Cedarville College, Seminary, Greene County Normal, Music Department and the faculty.

A salad and ice course were served. Two hundred guests were received. Red carnations were used as decorations. Several contests were the features of the evening. The only out-of-town guests were Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Aultman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Xenia.

At the close of the party the students joined in the college song and Mr. McClesney led in cheers for the President and his wife.

MODISH MITZI—Every Hat Has A Right Angle

By JAY V. JAY

The Goofer has just volunteered to run them out to the club—Polly, Mitzi, and Adelaide. He's just got time before a business appointment. "It will only take a minute to put on our hats," says Mitzi wondering which she will put on. The Goofer believes her.

With so little hair to put under a hat one would think that it could be done quickly. But every hat has its right angle which coincides with smartness. One must find this angle at all costs—of time and patience. Notice the point of Mitzi's bob comes in the center of her hat.

Adelaide finds that her hat looks smartest when she shows a tiny fringe in back and small blonde side locks. "Only a minute now," pacifies Adelaide. "You've only taken about 30 already," unsympathetically replies the Goofer whose afternoon has been shot to pieces.

The rear view of Polly's felt hat may be admired for the smart way in which it fits her head. The few golden locks that sneak out from under the brim at the back are intentional. It took time to get this effect. The Goofer will tell you it did! His own hat requires a single gesture. Well, he never will understand women it seems.

OLD JOHN CONFIDENCE PEPS UP PIRATE CAMP AND PLAYERS BELIEVE THIS IS THEIR YEAR

BY ELLIS H. MARTIN

Paso Robles, Calif., March 23—Confidence, that intangible element possession or lack of which frequently makes or breaks baseball clubs, fairly abounds this year in the Pirate spring training camp here.

From Barney Dreyfuss, veteran president of the Pittsburgh National League club, down to the local bat boy and including peppery Bill McKeehle, hustling manager and every one of the fifty men in camp here, there seems to be a feeling that this is to be the Pirates' year.

McKeehle naturally expects to carry off predictions.

"It's too soon to say how the club is going to shape up," he said today, as he directed practice. But he hastened to indicate that he was in no wise displeased with the way things were shaping up and he was looking toward the opening of the season in an optimistic frame of mind. The collective eye of the baseball squad management, camp followers and baseball critics is trained on one addition to the Pirate squad. He is Al Neihaus. The Pirates need a first baseman and indications are that in Neihaus they have found one.

He led the Southern Association in batting last year and is starting out in practice here like he meant to do something just like that this year in big company. If Neihaus can hit, runs the gossip, the Pirates are just about made.

For in Glenn Wright at shortstop, Moore at second and "Pie" Traynor at third, McKeehle has a collection of infield speed demons that are going to run away with something Add Carey, Cuyler and Bigbee to this trio as speed merchants on the bases and an idea is gleaned that a lot of bases are going to be purloined by the 1925 Pirate aggregation.

The outfield will be a veteran one. Cuyler, who has been lamming them over the left field fence here, will be in right, "Scoop" Carey in center and Bigbee in left. Grantham and Barnhart are struggling like demons to break into this combination but they are finding the chance slim. But they are going to add a lot of collective strength to the team and if the breaks give them a chance "watch their smoke."

Earl Smith, who hits left handed, is back of the plate with Gooch to assist him in the heavy work. And in pitching—there comes another "it."

The veterans haven't had time enough to show what they were able to do this year and it's too early to get a line on the youngsters. But all are agreed, that Paso Robles is an ideal place for the pitchers to get into shape. Friendly mountains shelter the playing field from breezes that put kinks in tender muscles that are being worked into shape.

From all indications the Pirates are getting away this year to an auspicious start. With one or two exceptions, notably Barnhart, who was kept at home by family illness, and Pitcher Vic Aldridge, who hasn't signed, the squad showed up here in clock-like fashion. And they're a likely looking bunch. There were few who packed extra poundage and all are in exceptionally fit condition.

So perhaps the confidence that seems to abound, is not misplaced and this may be a Pirate year. At any rate McKeehle is going to have a fast, hard hitting, well balanced aggregation that with any sort of break is going to make the pennant race in the senior league something to talk about.

Sporttime Stories

BROADCAST BY STATION WONES

All hail to the fighting athletes of the Springfield High basketball squad who on Saturday night at Columbus came through with a great and well deserved victory in the finals of the state championship which they won by beating Lakewood High of Cleveland by a 32 to 30 score in a game that required two overtime periods to decide. Reports of the game say the teams were about evenly matched in all departments save one and this was to come from behind. Springfield fought an uphill battle all the way. It was the same thing a week ago when it defeated Stivers at Dayton. Coach Matheny's lads were beaten but they would not give up and fought hard and succeeded in knotting the score. They finally won out in the overtime period. It took Coach Matheny two seasons to build a team that copped the state crown. It was in the season of 1923 that Joe Keyser, Carter and Crist started playing with the Reapers regularly. Springfield showed here earlier in the season against Central High and won by a 24 to 18 score. At that time the Clark County five had played three games while it was the locals first of the season. In that game Joe Keyser, who was picked as all state forward, was held to three lone fielders while Carter, picked as all state guard, made but two from the field. Zell, Buell and Holton watched these boys like hawks that night.

Systems used in the training camps by big league managers in preparing their teams for the long grinds differ a little. Most managers favor a single practice session in most cases from 10 in the morning until 1 in the afternoon. In the event that one of the veterans feels he has had enough before that time has expired he has the privilege of quitting. Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds and John McGraw of the New York Giants are the two exceptions. There are two practice sessions in the camps of the Reds and Giants. A limbering up in the morning while in the afternoon a game is played. Both McGraw and Hendricks say that the athletes go south to train, not for a vacation. If hard work and earnest effort make for good physical condition the Reds will no doubt come north perfectly fit.

The Eagles Athletic Club is going to redeem itself in the eyes of the sport loving public when on Tuesday night at Eagles hall, it will put on another wrestling show that is a bit different from anything ever tried around these parts. Pete Montana of Cedar Rapids, Ia., is going to do the "Iron Man" stunt when he takes on George Gatsoff of Massillon, O., and Bull Gossard of London in a time limit match. Montana agrees to throw both two out of three falls in sixty minutes. In the event that he falls he does not receive one cent for his work. This match should prove exciting as all three grapplers are willing workers on the mat. In the semi-finals Speed Crawford, local colored flash, will get his chance when he meets Kid Black of Springfield. Crawford defeated Wead last week while Black lost a tough decision to Les Fishbaugh at Columbus. They are about evenly matched and the fur show it when they clash.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS CREATE COMMUNITY SERVICE ORGANIZATION TO CLEAN CAMPUS

By WILLIAM GOODALL YOUNG

An interesting phase of student life at Antioch College, rapidly developing its community service organization, is the organization, entirely under student control, aimed at directing individual talent towards some set purpose which will not only benefit the college but the village of Yellow Springs well.

The students have all registered with the organization and have indicated a particular line of work they wish to be assigned. Note has also been made of any special talents that may be used.

In this way the organization is able to find the right group to carry out any special project and is privileged to call for a certain amount of service from members.

One of the first jobs undertaken, was the organization was perfected, as in the ground-floor hallway of a men's dorm. The floor and walls were in shocking condition, so they went out to the old pine flooring and put a hardwood floor. Then they cleaned the ceiling and walls and redecorated them. Bought new rugs and turned in pictures, banners and new appropriate wall decorations; led the bookcases with worthwhile books; installed ample lighting fixtures, and made a clubby place out of what has been a barren, uninviting entrance hall. They did all the work and paid all the bills.

An important project now under way is sponsored by this organization is that of improving the grounds in the rear of the men's dormitory. Many of the students park their cars in any space they happen to find, and such refuse has been thrown out among the trees. These grounds are naturally beautiful, under a thick growth of trees, and hitherto nothing vision student, who takes Antioch's cultural and scientific courses only, and is therefore at the college all the time, will keep an eye on the work of "B" division for Brewster and Norman and keep things bustling.

Brewster and Norman, with their associates in this enterprise, are rendering an invaluable service to the college, not alone in saving expense but in brightening up the campus and encouraging other students to help the work along. They are paying their own way through college as landscape gardeners while building a future for themselves that has limitless possibilities.

A conference between the community service organization and Brewster and Norman followed, which resulted in the two students going to Dean Nash and, while thanking him for his offer of financial assistance, assuring him that the labor would be furnished by the students if the college would pay for a team to haul the rock and gravel. The plans progressed rapidly and the following day Brewster and Norman headed a group of student surveyors who staked out the grounds according to plans furnished by them.

The plans provide for a parking space 120 feet by 35, with a good solid bed and thorough drainage, directly in the rear of the dormitory. The driveway through the campus from this road curve will be widened and made into a one-way drive. The line of the drive will be altered somewhat and go around the rear of the building in a well-proportioned curve. This drive comes in from the road at the east of the campus, while another driveway will be built to curve in from a road at the south and meet it. The parking space itself is backed by a grove of trees which extends south to an orange hedge by the road. The drives entering the grounds from this road curve in among the trees. Flower beds separate the corners of the parking space nearest the drive from the drive itself, and a third bed between these two marks out the entrance and exit.

The space between the drive and dormitory is to be plowed up and sown with grass. A flagstone walk with a latticed covering leads from the rear door of the building to the drive. Flower beds will also be placed at the point where the north drive curves around the rear corner of the building.

Already the work of leveling and grading has begun. The "A" division students, now in school, leave this week for their co-operative jobs, and will not return to the college for five weeks. During this time the work will be carried on by the "B" division students. "Duke" Dubois, a "C" di-

PAIR HELD IN JAIL AFTER ARREST FOR CARRYING WEAPONS

Raymond Harris, 25, and C. A. Baker, 24, both of Charleston, Ill., arraigned in Squire Logenecker's court on Saturday on separate charges of operating a machine without a license and carrying concealed weapons, pleaded guilty to the first charge but refused to enter a plea to the latter and were bound over to the grand jury. They are being held in the County Jail in default of bond.

The pair was arrested by Deputy Marshall Jolley, of Osborn, Saturday morning, who investigated a report that the two men were asleep in a machine parked along the Fairfield-Zimmerman Pike which failed to have a license.

Search of the machine by Marshall Schneider of Osborn, disclosed the men possessed a .25 calibre automatic pistol, 150 rounds of ammunition and a black jack. Further search under the seats of the car brought to light a .32 calibre automatic and a .38 calibre Colt revolver.

Pictures of Baker, who claims to be a noted auto racing driver, were also found. Baker won several races in Charleston, Decatur, Ill., and other nearby cities, he admitted.

The men were fingerprinted by Sheriff Morris Sharp. He believes the men may be guilty of recent burglaries.

DARLINGTON FOR PREPAREDNESS HE TELLS ARTILERYMEN

Captain C. L. Darlington, Xenia attorney and past state department commander of the American Legion, advocated a powerful air force as a means of preserving peace in an address Saturday night at a banquet in connection with the 134th field artillery reunion in the American Legion rooms in Dayton.

Captain Darlington declared that no organization on earth wants peace more than the former service men of the World War and that the only way to insure it is by preparedness.

"What we need most are airplanes, men to man them and efficient ground organizations," Captain Darlington pointed out. "The only way we can get them is by liberal appropriations in congress."

"We must not condemn all pacifists, although they are dangerous to the safety of the nation. Many are really sincere in their belief that prayer and disarmament will bring about international peace. Our job is to get out and tell our story as much as they do."

FORMER PASTOR OF XENIA CHURCH DIES

Word was received in Xenia Sunday of the death of Dr. W. S. McClure, D. D., 69, former Xenian and well known in this vicinity, which occurred Sunday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Zach R. Scott, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. McClure had been in ill health for some time and underwent a serious operation at Grant Hospital, Columbus, from which he never recovered.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday noon at the Scott home, 1417 Severn Street, Squirrel Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa. Interment will be made in West Middletown, Pa. Dr. McClure's former home and where his wife is buried. On account of the bad roads, the body will probably be placed in a receiving vault.

Dr. McClure was born in West Middletown, Washington County, Pa., and graduated from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. His first charge was at Sugarcreek, O., where he was pastor for thirteen years. He went from there to Greely, Colo., where he preached four years.

He then came to Xenia and was pastor of the Third United Presbyterian Church, for seven years. When the Third Church united with the Second U. P. Church, he was retained as pastor and remained in that pulpit eight years.

Dr. McClure then went to South Kortright, N. Y., where he was pastor of the United Presbyterian Church for eight years. This was his last preaching charge.

Dr. McClure is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Scott of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. W. V. Ritchie of Kittanning, Pa.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

THE LOST PANTALOONS.
It chanced to be my golfing day,
The thunder loud was roaring,
I carried water to the hay
And left the gray there snoring;
I thought that I'd a golfing go,
For I had loads of riches,
When, Lord! a dreadful thing I found—
My wife had on my breeches.

I tried on all her petticoats,
Alas, I couldn't wear 'em,
But in my pants she played at golf,
And how I feared she'd tear 'em,
They were my finest woolen pair,
Without a patch or stitches;
I could do naught but stand and swear
And wish I had my breeches.

That night when from the course she came
How changed from what I knew them,
My tailored pants were not the same—
One more such trip would rue them.
I saw the wide and gashy rents
Where golf course briars had torn them,
They looked like they cost 15 cents
And I for years had worn them.

O, sorry day, when woman learned
To wear her husband's breeches,
For now her head to golf is turned
And turned away from stitches;
And tho' her wardrobe through he gleans
And through it all he calms in,
He finds he can't replace his jeans—
He can't wear her pajamas.

Great Esteemed Orator Auld says the committee has reported favorably on Longfellow Snallox for the Hammer Club. Several other applications have been received. A merchant near the Hammer Club headquarters is among those who have petitioned.

FOUNDING ADOPTED
Elyria, March 23—Betty Rose—christened by Sheriff Underhill—abandoned on a doorstep at Wellington, will have to remain in this county six months before her residence can be established. Thus ruled Probate Judge Wilcox. The waif has been in the custody of Charles Edwards and wife, who filed application papers for adoption of the youngster. A month prior, a baby boy was abandoned in a suitcase at the Big Four depot, also at Wellington. This baby, too, has been adopted here.

INDUSTRY CREATES BUILDING BOOM IN OSBORN SAYS RICE

The erection of two large branch plants by the Wabash and the Portland cement companies near Osborn, has caused an unprecedented building boom in the close vicinity, according to Morris Rice, Osborn attorney.

The value of lots has soared, and The International Development Company, of Dayton, has completed a real estate transaction acquiring 115 acres in the Bath Township school district, which are being platted off into regulation lots, with a frontage of fifty feet and depth of about 135 feet.

Other recent real estate transactions involving about forty more acres have been consummated.

Attorney Rice declared that the cement companies are hiring labor in day and night shifts, making a total of about 800 workers employed regularly during the construction of the plants.

A number of the laborers come from nearby cities but a majority are buying lots and houses, preparatory to living near their work.

Attorney Rice estimated that the joint population of Fairfield and Osborn would reach 5,000 within a few years.

WHO OWNS CANAL?

Defiance, March 23.—Decision of the federal court as to whether the title to the Miami and Erie canal rests with the state of Ohio or with the United States government will be the result of action by the Maumee Valley Electric Company in securing injunctions against Toledo city officials. Such a decision would involve the validity of all sales and leases of portions of the Miami and Erie canal property, it was stated.

Junior Cross Word Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

One Wife on Approval

by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND's husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA, and all her world. Cynthia turns to CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XLIV—A CRUEL SHOCK

CYNTHIA arrived in San Francisco late in the afternoon. She had not realized that there would be no one to meet her at the station; riding across the bay in the ferry she had somehow expected that her husband would welcome her on the San Francisco side. Of course, he had said that he was in the hospital—yet she had thought that possibly he might be able to meet her; if he had been seriously ill surely he would have informed his family of the fact.

But there was no Jim to single her out of the crowd of arriving passengers. Made doubly lonely by the fact that all about her other people's friends and families were welcoming them, she gave her bag to a porter and followed him to a taxi.

"St. Peter's Hospital," she told the driver, and sank back in a corner of the seat, to stare out at the unfamiliar streets through which they passed.

She was eager to see Jim and find out what he wanted to do about the situation that had arisen between them since his departure for Honolulu. Over and over she told herself that it must be his mother who was ill—that it couldn't be Jim or his family would have let them know, even if Jim hadn't wanted to. And yet—

Hospitals had always frightened Cynthia, as she stepped out of the cab she looked up at the grim white pile that was St. Peter's with fear in her heart. If it should be Jim who was sick—what would she do then?

She went slowly up the steps, across the hall and into the waiting room. Perhaps Jim would be there. On the train she had wired him the time of her arrival.

But there was no Jim; only a painfully competent young woman who looked at her questioning.

"I want to see—that is, is Mr. James Leland a patient here?" she asked.

The young woman glanced at a book that lay on her desk.

"Yes—he's in room 708," she answered.

"Is he—may I see him?" It was Jim, then, who was ill!

"Just a moment; I'll see."

The young woman set down at the desk, and began expertly to manipulate the switchboard. Cynthia's heart sank.

At last the attendant turned to her again.

"Mr. Leland is still on the operating table," she announced. "You probably won't be able to see him till tomorrow."

The room swam about Cynthia. Blindly she turned toward the door and took a few staggering steps in the direction of the outer door. Someone grasped her arm firmly and half-carried her to the entrance. She was conscious of fresh, damp air blowing against her face, of a kind voice saying: "Sit down here a moment and you will be all right."

When she looked up she saw a stranger bending over her, a man who smiled and patted her on the shoulder.

"I'm one of the doctors here," he told her at once. "I was on my way out when you fainted."

"Oh, then—perhaps you can tell me—my husband is a patient here, and she said he was on the operating table—I don't even know what the matter with him—" Cynthia's voice rose hysterically.

"Don't be frightened; come with me and we'll find out all about him." He took Cynthia's arm and led her back into the hospital, paused a moment at the desk, questioned the attendant, and then took Cynthia down the hall to the elevator.

Hospitals always frightened Cynthia.

"I'm going to take you up to a quiet room where you can wait until you know how your husband is," he told her. "The operation he is having is not a serious one, and you have no cause to worry about him."

Part of the roof had been turned into a huge sun parlor, and it was there that he found a big chair for Cynthia with cushions to place at her back. He persuaded her to take off her hat and wrap, and sat down beside her.

"Now, tell me, have you had your dinner?" She shook her head. "Well, neither have I—I was just going out to dine when I met you. So let's have something up here, shall we?"

It was a simple little supper of eggs, tea, fruit and toast that he had prepared in one of the diet kitchens, but Cynthia thought that it tasted better than anything she had eaten in a long time. Doctor Hall—so he had introduced himself—brought with it the news that Jim was back in bed, that everything had gone well, and that as soon as he had recovered from the anesthetic she could see him. She leaned back comfortably and looked down over the city through the huge window beside her.
